

Baby Nasiy Lee Green

January 22, 2021 - June 7, 2021

Nasiy; a Hebrew title that signifies a lineage of Kings. A name and title befitting of a blessed son, given by The Most High, to Lee Nasiy Green and Ruby Yaqar Green. Sweet Nasiy, in his brief time here, embodied contentment, sweetness, and happiness. At only four months of age, he was accelerated in his reign as King. He was already able to sit up on his own strength. He would sit in his father's arms and intently watch basketball games as if he was already able to understand the plays and concept of the game. He was distinctly his own unique and beautiful self, almost able to sense that he was ordained, needed, loved, and of a royal lineage.

Ruby always had a deep longing for children. She prayed for a husband that would lead the family, treasure her as the precious gem that she was and join with her to fulfill her calling as a mother. She was blessed with two children, Madelyn and Corbyn, and on January 22, 2021, Nasiy Lee. It is only fitting that when The Most High called Nasiy Lee home, He also called his amazing mother to continue in his care.

Losing such a young soul, as well as his mother, is one of the most tragic events possible. The only way we can survive, make peace with, and ultimately honor their lives is to trust that this is the Lord's will and He will, in His timing, make meaning from this tragedy, for each and every one of us.

“ Just two short months ago, I was blessed to be able to hold you in my arms. I was watching in awe as you slept and I smiled as your teal, round paci moved rhythmically in your mouth. It was almost as big as your face! I could see and feel the joy of your parents. I'm so thankful I had the opportunity to smell your sweet baby scent and to whisper a prayer in your ear. Thank you, Nasiy, for the moment you gave me. Misty Plump
